COMMENCEMENT OF STAKEHOLDER CONSULTATION ON DRAFT NATIONAL FINANCIAL INCLUSION STRATEGY 2022-2030

The Reserve Bank of Fiji invites feedback from relevant stakeholders on the draft third National Financial Inclusion Strategy (“NFIS”) for Fiji for 2022-2030. The draft strategy is included in a NFIS consultation paper which can be accessed from our website: NFIS 2022-2030 Consultation-Paper. In addition, a template for providing feedback on the draft strategy 2022-2030 can be accessed from our website: Stakeholder Feedback Template.

This 2022-2030 NFIS builds on the progress and achievements under the first two strategies which were implemented over the periods 2010-2014 and 2016-2020. The draft strategy provides a roadmap for progression of financial inclusion and identifies four strategic priority areas that will guide financial inclusion efforts in Fiji over the next nine years. The NFIS supports the Government’s 20-Year national development plans and for the first time, is strategically aligned to support the achievement of the United Nation’s Sustainable Development Goals

Financial inclusion stakeholders, financial service providers, government agencies, civil society organisations, international development partners, donor agencies and other private sector representatives are being invited to submit their comments on the draft NFIS.

Feedback will ensure that the financial inclusion objectives contained in the strategy and its sequenced actions are relevant and appropriate to support the needs of the Fijian market and ultimately assist in moving the country forward towards achieving inclusive and sustainable economic growth.

Written submissions can be made by post using the following details:
